The Otto Wall Lamp

An ode to the pioneering Vienna Secession movement of the early 20th Century, The Otto Wall Lamp is a practical light fitting with a strong graphic form. Designed in collaboration with lighting makers Fosbery Studio, we drew inspiration from traditional lighting in the vibrant interiors of Viennese cafe culture, and scaled this for residential settings. The bi-directional light sources provide warm ambient uplight and focused, directional wall washing. When used in multiples around the perimeter of a room, these fittings are visually striking while also blending subtly into their surroundings.

CARE

Brass is a soft metal and will scratch easily. Grease, plaster, tile grout and other building materials may permanently damage your product.
Please handle with care, and with clean, grease-free hands to avoid leaving dark fingerprints on the finish. To preserve the finish, please wipe gently with a lint-free cloth.
The occasional, gentle use of a damp cloth and mild detergent is also recommended, ensuring the lamp is dried thoroughly to avoid discolouration. Avoid harsh chemicals, abrasive cleaners, and excessive scrubbing, as these can damage the patina and surface. To brighten the brass, you can use a specialist brass polish (for Antique Brass) or apply a natural beeswax and buff with a clean cloth to replenish the matt lustre (for Iron Bronze), but always test on a small, inconspicuous area first.
